

Program Costs & Financial Aid Guide

Please note that these cost estimates are based on 2016-2017 rates and are subject to change. Also note, students who do not meet financial aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirements for two or more semesters will have their aid suspended.

Third Summer Session 2017

- Because third summer session 2017 is part of the 2016-2017 academic year, students interested in receiving financial aid in summer 2017 must complete a 2016-2017 FAFSA in addition to the 2017-18 FAFSA. Since summer 2017 Bridge students have not used any other financial aid in the 2016-2017 academic year, they have access to the full annual amount of student loans.
- All financial aid for Bridge students goes through PSCC. PSCC must be the #1 school on the FAFSA. Please note that students' financial aid (if any) for summer will be released after the semester begins (but before the UT payment deadline of August 4, 2017). Students should expect to purchase their summer books out of pocket, as they will need to buy their books before financial aid is disbursed.
- Students are also expected to attend one of the two Bridge orientation sessions. The registration fee is $200 for students and $50 for guests (over 18).

Guidelines and Due Dates

All financial aid for Bridge students must go through PSCC every semester they are in the program, including third summer session at UT. Any financial aid or scholarship money sent directly to UT for a Bridge student will be returned to the sender. Bridge students should list PSCC (school code 012693) as their #1 institution on the 2016-2017 (if beginning the program in third summer session 2017) and 2017-2018 FAFSA forms.

A student's federal financial aid will be applied to the PSCC bill first, then the PSCC Business Office will disburse the student's excess financial aid, if any, to the student. The student is responsible for paying fees to UT. PSCC does not pay UT directly. Each semester, the UT staff will place Bridge students receiving financial aid in a deferment, to allow time for students to receive any excess financial aid before the UT bill is due.

Bridge students are responsible for paying all requisite tuition and fees to each institution. Students receiving excess financial aid from PSCC are responsible for collecting their excess aid and applying it to any outstanding balance at UT. Students with overdue balances at either institution will have holds placed on their accounts and may be removed from the program as a result.
